MARINE RAILWAY AT ST. THOMAS.

A COMPANY was formed three years since in the Danish Island of St. Thomas, for the purpose of building a Marine Railway, capable of taking up vessels of 1000 tons burden. Engineers were sent out from England, as well as all the machinery for its construction. The Railway is now completed, and the Directors having spared no expense in building it in the most substantial and perfect manner, competent persons, after very careful examination, and witnessing the practical operation of its powers, have pronounced it a finished piece of workmanship, equal in every respect to any Marine Railway in Europe or the United States. The harbor of St. Thomas is safe, commodious, and easy of entrance to vessels of the largest capacity; and all the necessary materials, of the best description, for repairing vessels, are constantly for sale at reasonable prices. The mechanics are as skillful as can be found elsewhere, and the expenses of repairing are more moderate than at any other port in the West Indies.

Masters of vessels sustaining injury at sea, and under the necessity of proceeding to a southern port for repairs, are invited to consider the many advantages enjoyed by St. Thomas, not only as it respects the despatch and facility with which their repairs can be completed, but for the certainty of finding there every thing requisite and necessary to complete them, and at prices varying but little from what would be charged in the principal cities of this country. True Dignity.

BY AUGUSTUS SNOODGRASS.

THERE is an outward splendor; which Deceives the simple—oft the wise, Who dream that 'neath a covering rich, The dignity of Manhood lies, Forgetting that the outward state May cloak both foolishness and sin, While all that maketh Manhood great, Gleams like a polished gem within!

The love for Truth—the will to do— An aim unbending, though it seem Unto the multitude untrue— Or but the madness of a dream, Which fears nor Force, nor Scorn nor Jest, But rushes onward to the goal, He who thus bears with dauntless breast, Doth wear that Jewel in his soul!

He who, self-wise—at Wisdom frowns, And scorns the Thought he ne'er possess'd, Though men shower on him lav'ring crowns, Is but a foolish slave at best— A slave to error—captive bound; Who, groping in the shades of night, Looks out the darkness wild around, And calls the rayless Blackness light!

Our being is an endless strife— A ceaseless search for hidden things, And he best knows the end of life, Who spreads on high the boldest wings; Who breaks the chains which Custom binds Around the struggling limbs of Man, And for the Future, Labor finds In reaping what his Thought began!

The men of Action—they who toil While multitudes around them play, And by their ignorance despoil, The free gifts of the blessed day— These are the men whose earnest Thought, Filled with the greatness of their strife, And of the Blessings to be wrought, Bears the true dignity of Life!

Before them spreads a rayless night, And shadows mocking fill their way; Behind them gleams a flashing light, Which brings the Fullness of the Day! Old thoughts, long worn as trusty chains, Before the bright-winged Spirit fly, While songs of Hope fill all the plains, And cheers of gladness reach the sky!

The health of Life—the Sun—the air, Are free gifts unto all Mankind; But who would win a gift more rare— The treasured Fullness of the Mind— Must watch and toil and struggle long— With sackcloth gird his restless soul— And dare, though 'gainst him rise the Strong, To rush where'er the strife-waves roll!

Truth, valor, firmness, make the man; With these, the weakest shall be strong; For since the changing world began, This truth has triumphed full and long, Where'er thy Fortune casts thy way— If thou hast learned, and fearless fought, Thou'lt in the bear the light of Day, And triumph in a noble Thought! Norwich, N. Y.

A Word for Young Men.

BY REV. H. GRAVES.

There is one fact which thousands seem never to have discovered, although the history of our own times have furnished some of the most striking illustrations of its truth. It is this: that intellectual and physical labor are not incompatible with each other; that a man may be a good farmer, mechanic or merchant, and yet study the sciences, belong to a literary club, acquire a knowledge of authors and books, write essays and make speeches. We have heard of merchants who were not only unwilling to employ any time for their own intellectual improvement, but unwilling that their clerks should be interested in any thing but business—acquire any knowledge but that which would benefit them as salesmen or accountants. And how many there are whose time is chiefly occupied by manual labor or business, who take it for granted that to improve and elevate the mind by reading, thinking and writing, is utterly impracticable, except at a sacrifice of more important attainments. They are perfectly resigned to ignorance, for no other reason than that they have to work for a living. They suppose themselves completely and forever debarr'd from all the higher privileges enjoyed by those who 'go to college' or enter the learned professions.

What if Franklin had thought so? What if Roger Sherman had nibbled such a notion?—What if the whole platoon of self-taught men—shepherds, ploughmen, shoemakers, blacksmiths, printers, &c. who have put the colleges to shame, and reared monuments to their own memories, more imperishable than marble, had cherished such an impression?

That you are a farmer, or a mechanic, is no more reason why you should live and die without extensive knowledge, influence and usefulness, than that you should live without houses and families. Neither your business nor your health need suffer in the least, by your devotion of one, two or more hours, out of every twenty-four, to study and mental culture. And, young men, you owe it to yourselves—to society—to religion and humanity—systematically to devote such a proportion of your time to such a purpose. The public mind is awake about us; society is advancing; and the sources of knowledge are abundant and available. Within a quarter of a century, all the immense interests of this great people will be under the control and direction of those who are now the young men of the nation. They must be preparing for this responsibility.

True, labor, and decision, and perseverance are requisite. Wishing and sighing, and imagining, and dreaming of greatness, said William Wirt, will never make you great. But cannot a young man command his energies?—Read Foster on Decision of Character. That book will tell you what it is in your power to accomplish. You must gird up your loins, and go to your work with all the indomitable energy of Hannibal scaling the Alps. It is your duty to make the most of your talents, time and opportunities. Alfred, king of England, though he performed more business than any of his subjects, found time for study. Franklin in the midst of all his labors, found time to dive into the depths of philosophy, and explored an untrodden path of science. Frederick the Great, with an empire at his direction, in the midst of war, and on the eve of battles, found time to reveal in all the charms of philosophy, and to feast himself on the luxuries of learning. Bonaparte, with Europe at his disposal, with kings at his ante-chamber begging for vacant thrones, and at the head of thousands of men whose destinies were suspended on his arbitrary pleasure, had time to converse with books. And young men who are confined to labor or business, even twelve hours a day may take an hour and a half of what is left for study; and that will amount to two months in a year.—Is that nothing? Ask Elihu Burritt. Ask Simpson, the great mathematician. Ask Herschel, the first of astronomers. Simpson worked at the weaver's loom, and Herschel was a poor filer's boy in the army. Ask the year 1844. Let your own experiment of what can be done in one year, settle the question whether to acquire useful information by regular and hard study be practicable or desirable.

We know a few young men who have formed studious habits, while yet they are employed at manual labor. During the last year we published an article from the pen of one yet in his teens, which was widely copied into our exchanges. Young men of this stamp will live to some good purpose. Even in their youth, they win the love and respect of the virtuous and good; and new honors and nobler rewards await them for days to come.—Christian Reflector.

Testimony of a Friend.

At the district Convention, holden at Lynn on the 7th ult. for the choice of delegates to the Baltimore Convention, a resolution was offered declaring HENRY CLAY the "First, Last, and Only choice" of the Whigs of every District.

When the resolution in regard to American Slavery was read, after that in favor of Mr. Clay had been unanimously adopted by the Convention, Ebenezer Hussey, of Lynn, (a member of the Society of Friends), addressed the delegates in a most stirring and effective manner, in support of the Resolution. His remarks were received with great applause, and were, in substance as follows:—

Mr. Hussey of Lynn, rose and said "he was much pleased to hear such a resolution presented to the convention, bearing as it did upon a subject in which he felt a deep interest—a subject, too, which demands our most serious consideration. But as a man, he wished to be consistent, and as a member of the convention he wished it to present no act to the world which would stamp the character of inconsistency upon the delegates which compose it.

Let us then as rational men, consider well what we are about. Is the resolution we are about to adopt condemning oppression, and stamping infamy upon the character of him who denies the unalienable rights of liberty and the pursuit of happiness to his fellow man, consistent with the Resolutions we have just passed—lauding a slave holder, I had almost said to Heaven?

Is oppressing, such a crime, and are oppressors so worthy our confidence? Is liberty sacred to our hearts, while he who wrenches the same liberty from others, is so worthy of our estimation? These are questions which come home to our hearts—questions which the world will ask, and which we are bound to answer. For one I am ready to meet them.—Gentlemen, be not alarmed; virtue has often made concessions to advance its own noble objects; not concessions of principle—but concessions of single interests to save the loss of many. I am a Whig—a CLAY WHIG—and though I rarely mingle in political life, I am willing the whole world should know the opinions I entertain. I am a friend to the slave—I am willing the friends of humanity should know the concessions I make. But unless they know why I make them, I may appear inconsistent—and when the world knows that this convention concedes an interest, while it holds fast the great principle, no inconsistency will mark its actions in passing the Resolution before us.

I have consented to support Henry Clay (a slave holder) for the highest station to which man can aspire. I have done it after the most serious consideration of all that bears upon the virtues and the errors which have characterized the public and private life of the man. I have reasons for doing so—reasons with which I trust every member of this Convention concurs.

There are three great interests at this time affecting the general prosperity of our country—interests, too, which demand the protection of master minds, and the serious consideration of all who have ought to hope for, or ought to lose. The first and greatest of these is American Slavery; the others, the protection of American Industry, and the establishment of a National Policy, which shall ensure a uniform currency, and give stability to mercantile operations. Why, then, I am asked, do I sacrifice the most important interest to obtain the protection of the other two? I do not, I will not, sacrifice one jot or tittle of the one. I, with you, and you with me, only cling to the two—and stand ready to grasp the other wherever it shall be in our reach.—[This sentiment was responded to by the whole convention.]

The question with us is not, shall we support and elect a man possessing every virtue, and upholding every interest, or Henry Clay, with imperfections which are common to humanity.—The question talents—his unbending integrity—his unchanging steadfastness in the defence of Northern interests, and the interests of the whole country—is there no bright ray to relieve so dark a feature in his character? Dare he desire the continuation of Slavery? He does not. His early life was characterized by one of the most brilliant efforts that has ever been made in opposition to its continuance in his own State. Since which he has been distinguished by the concessions and compromises he has made to advance what he has conceived to be the interests of the country. When he shall be President, he will have accomplished all that he can do as a statesman—a politician. But will there not be another act to consummate the brightness of his fame? Will not the bright sunshine of his youth return and mingle its rays that cluster around his name, when bending to the grave? Will he not again appear the leader among the champions of Equal Rights?—the foremost among those who shall proclaim liberty to the captive?

Gentlemen, I abhor slavery—I abhor oppression from my heart. And while I am convinced that the circumstances justify the concession I make, I believe such another concession will never be called for on our hands; and I hope in doing it now, no one will hesitate to proclaim aloud to the world that slavery is a curse, and oppression a crime. And for myself, while I now vote for a slave-holder to fill the highest office in the Nation's gift, I at the same time pledge myself before you and before high Heaven, that 'tis the last time.

Through the dim distance of the shadowy future, I see the dawn of a brighter day; and may our acts hasten its coming. And come what may, may it never be said of the Whigs of Massachusetts—ye have betrayed your trusts.

Gentlemen, my whole heart is with the Resolution. I hope it will pass. I believe it speaks a voice such as every Whig will echo. I believe it utters truths which will grow brighter with using, and stronger in the hearts of all who embrace them, till the Whig cause, which embraces every interest in our country, shall gloriously triumph.

DAILY WHIG AND COURIER.

JOHN S. SAYWARD, Editor.

THURSDAY, APRIL 4, 1844.

FOR PRESIDENT,
HENRY CLAY
OF KENTUCKY.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
GEORGE EVANS
OF MAINE.

SUBJECT TO THE DECISION OF THE BALTIMORE WHIG CONVENTION.

SEE FIRST PAGE.

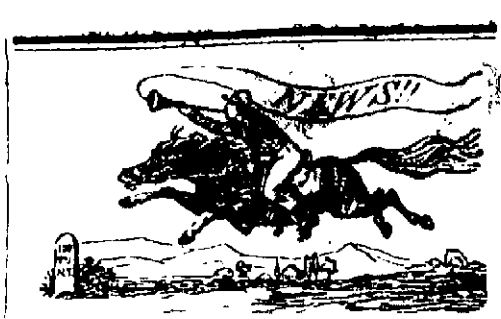

The Legislature of this state at its late session, by departing from the usual course of proceedings in requiring a majority of votes to choose Presidential electors and leaving it in case of failure to elect by a majority for the Governor to call an extra session of the Legislature to choose electors, clearly enough indicated that the dominant party had fears as to the result of the popular vote and therefore wished to make it certain by having the matter referred to the action of the present legislature, chosen by the people without the slightest expectation of this power being conferred upon them. This bold partizan movement has greatly surprised and mortified many of their political friends; private remonstrances were sent to the members from this city and from different parts of the state against the plan, but they were disregarded and the responsibility taken.

Since the passage of that resolve the publishers of the Augusta Age have issued proposal for an extra, cheap political paper to be published during the campaign. The publisher of the Democrat in this city has done the same. Several leading locos are trying to persuade some printer to start a loco paper in the county of Piscataquis and another in the county of Aroostook. Funds are being collected by them for procuring and circulating documents, and a vigorous effort is to be made in every part of the state to carry it for Van Buren.

The object of these extra papers that are to be issued, it has been intimated to us, by one who knows, is, to circulate that sort of matter for which no regular paper would like to be responsible. This fact with what has already transpired is sufficient to satisfy us that the most unscrupulous and venomous course will be pursued—the sanctuary of private life will be invaded. The calm discussion of principles and of the measures of the government is to give place to foul mouthed slander, vituperation and falsehood. While these things so discreditable to the intelligence and virtue of the people we trust the great mass of the sober minded right hearted people of this state will not be thrown from their propriety, but let the rage of selfish and infuriated partisans who esteem party above the welfare of their country, spend itself upon the air, while they look with earnest solicitude into the duties and obligations of the government to the people and deposit their ballots with the determination to give the solemn sanction of freeman in favor of that course of measure and that governmental policy which shall secure the greatest blessing to the whole people.

The vote of the freeman which determines in favor of the interests and well being of the whole people is more precious to the country, is a greater boon to the cause of freedom and self government throughout the world, than a thousand successes of a mere party or the elevation of any chieftain.

The life of Henry Clay, by Epps Sargent has just been published in an elegant form at the New York Tribune office. It should be extensively circulated and attentively read throughout the country. The large-hearted patriotism the high statesmanlike abilities of Mr. Clay should be generally understood by the people. He is just the man to take the direction of public affairs and carry our country onward to an honorable position and the people to prosperity contentment and happiness.

Seventh Congressional District.

We publish below a large addition to our returns from the Seventh Congressional District. The vote is very heavy, as we have already received more votes by nearly a thousand than were cast in January last, and not a single town in Aroostook heard from! The Whigs have worked like heroes, and deserve the highest consideration and praise from the Whigs of this State. Cary's majority thus far is only 73 votes, and his nett gain 217.

The Democrat on Tuesday evening issued an extra, but whether they issued one last evening is quite doubtful. It will be something of a 'tight fit' for Cary, but we guess the Governor and his Council can contrive to count him in!

Connecticut Election—Heavy Whig Gain.

We have returns from New London county and a portion of Windham county. The Whigs have gained largely—six Representatives in N. London county, and the probability is that the Whigs have carried the State handsomely. The hour is too late for giving details.

Revolt at St. Domingo.

News was received at Boston on Thursday last, per brig Lion, from Cape Haytien 17th ult. Left, brig Rocket, Hardy, detained on account of the disturbances in the Island. Capt Sampson reports that 2500 troops left Cape Haytien on the 16th ult. for St. Jago, a large inland Spanish city, about six days march from Cape Haytien. The city is said to be strongly fortified, and will be well defended. 2000 more troops were yet to leave for the interior.

It seems that the Spanish part of the Island has revolted against the present government, and that the new President Herad is collecting the whole effective military force of the French population, with a view to quell the rebellion as once.

One of King Christopher's old officers, a black man, Gen Pierrot, commands the division of the North, and was at Cape Haytien on the 16th ult.

Portland Election.

The Portland Advertiser has forwarded us a slip containing a full account of the election.—No choice of Mayor. The straight out temperance party cast 458 votes. The whig candidate leads the loco candidate 188!

Five whig Aldermen are elected out of the seven, and twelve Councilmen out of the twenty-one, which gives the whigs a clear majority in both branches and on joint ballot.

On the Locofoco ticket, one Alderman and one Councilman are elected in the city proper—and probably one on the Islands.

Very Late from China.

A slip from the N. Y. Herald states that the ship Stephen Lurina has arrived from Whampoa, whence she sailed on the 19th December.

Letters of the 19th December say that the Delhi and Mary Ellen, and Ronalson, would all get away very soon for the United States, and probably the Helena. The Petrel would sail in a few days for Manila.

Mr Cushing, our minister, had not arrived.

(From the Pekin Gazette.)

Victory of the Imperial Arms.

The imperial arms have obtained a decided advantage over the mountaineers of Kokonar, who for a long while most obstinately resisted the Chinese authorities, and at one time even threatened an immediate invasion of the neighboring provinces Szechuen.

Several Mogul chiefs who gave assistance to the regular soldiers, and by their bravery and perseverance broke the spirit of the rebels, are to be promoted, and to receive all the titles they took as a reward.

The Congressional news is unimportant. The Senate did not sit and the House did little beyond receiving communications and engaging in a debate.

The strong representations frequently made, that if Texas is not annexed to this Union she will become a British colony, we consider emphatically among the humbugs of the day. It is made, however, to occupy every commanding position in the discussions of the subject, and it is quite difficult in selecting intelligence for our columns, often at a late hour at night, to sift out this idea. We have heretofore, and we may expect again to find this idea woven into the mail intelligence upon this subject, and we take occasion now to remark that we deem all this kind of the matter to be got up purely for effect and without any reasonable grounds for its taking place.

Our advertisements to-day are handsome. Those in want of any thing superior will please to read them.

The mail arrived at half past twelve o'clock.

Our friend Schouler of the Lowell Courier is about trying the experiment of publishing in the city of Lowell a Daily instead of a thrice weekly paper. He says that Lowell before the end of the year, will contain a population of thirty thousand. If Bangor with a population of ten thousand can sustain two daily papers and even another one talked about, we should think a daily could live in Lowell. Newspaper publishing however is rather unprofitable business and keeping up a Daily paper is a little too hard work to be ranked among the amusements and pleasure of life.

The Gazette remarks that the Whig papers seem rather averse to publishing the manly and noble letter of Cassius M. Clay which appeared in our columns of Tuesday. We think this a misrepresentation and without excuse, because, so far as we have observed, and certainly so far as we are concerned, it has been published with the brightest satisfaction.

As the Anti-Texas meeting is likely to be a long while in coming to any result, and as Congress will probably not delay an adjournment for the purpose of receiving any remonstrance from that source we, would advise all our citizens who are opposed to annexation to sign the remonstrance now prepared and open for signature. It may be found at the Whig & Courier Office.

The Ministry of Nova Scotia have received a series of mortifying defeats. They were unable to carry the Governor's own salary, solemnly pledged and guaranteed to him on his coming to the Colony—the opposition baffled and laughed at them. Huntington moved a resolution of £500, which the minority were compelled to consent to, being afraid to divide. On Tuesday they abandoned their own scale of salaries to present incumbents, and took whatever sums Huntington proposed.

The Hon. S. S. Prentiss of Mississippi, arrived at New York on Friday. We understand he is to extend his visit to Portland, and spend some time among his old friends there. He should be invited by the Whigs of Bangor to extend his visit to this city. His presence here would be hailed with pleasure.

We understand that there is to be religious services at the Union Street Church to-morrow, (Good Friday), at 11 o'clock.

The English government is erecting a building for the storage of Tobacco, at the London docks, which is said to cover nearly six acres of ground.

The Steamboat Portland will sail from Frankfort to-morrow morning at five o'clock.

The Mercantile Association will meet this evening for debate at the Mechanics' Hall.

Extravagance in dress is said to be a prevailing complaint amongst the females in New Orleans at the present time.

Rhyming Epitaph.

In a church-yard in the north of England, is an epitaph of John Newtown:—

"Here lies (alas!) and more's the pity,
All that remains of John New City."
To which is attached the following nota bene
"The man's name was Newtown which would not rhyme."

Wheat.

Mr. Claudius Allen, of Cheshire, Conn., states in the Farmer's Gazette, his mode of preparing seed wheat. He first soaks it 8 or 12 hours in salt brine, in which there is 5 oz. of saltpetre to a bushel of wheat. It is then laid on the floor, and two to four bushels of slaked lime mixed with a bushel of seed. After laying six or eight hours, it is sowed, lime and all. He raised last year 35 bushels of wheat on an acre and a half of land, which was in oats the previous year, and no manure applied to oats or wheat. He has no snout. Cultivates winter wheat, and gets 42 lbs. of flour to the bushel. Lime will generally do little good to the crop the first year it is applied, especially recently slaked, otherwise than to prevent smut; but when applied the previous, as it is when sowed with winter grain, it may prove beneficial.

'Father,' said a sporting youth to his reverend parent, 'they say trout will bite now.' 'Well, well,' was the consoling reply, 'mind your work men, and you'll be sure they won't bite you.'

$25 REWARD.

FOUND in the streets of the city of Bangor on or about the 20th March a man who appears to be a young man, who is incapable of stating any thing intelligibly respecting his name, connections or residence; sometimes calling himself "Charles Hunt" at other times "Champion Hunt," and says he "lived on the plain with cousin Morrill in Norwich." He is about five feet eight inches high, has light blue eyes, chestnut brown hair, and light complexion. His age is probably about 21 years. His chest is somewhat deformed, and he has scars upon his hands as tho' he had used a knife, and his hands have the appearance of his having been accustomed to some labor. He had on a white round cap without visor and a black frock coat, much worn, of home made cloth, and dark pantaloons.
It is believed that some person must have brought this man into the city, and left him to perish or be provided for by the city. Information is now sought as to where the man belongs or has been living, and a handsome reward is offered for such information as will lead to the conviction of the person who abandoned this man, at this inclement season of the year to the peril of exposure in this city. He is now lodged in the Alms House.
Any person who can give information to the Overseers of the Poor of Bangor, respecting this man or the manner of his reaching this city will confer favor, and if the information thus given should lead to the conviction of any person for this crime against law and humanity, a reward of twenty-five dollars shall be paid.

WRIGHT'S
Indian Vegetable Pills.
The True Character of Counterfeiters and Sellers of Counterfeit Medicines.
NO Medicine has been introduced to the American Public, whose virtues have been more cheerfully and universally acknowledged by its popularity, and extensive circulation, than
"WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS."

To descend upon their various virtues at this late season would be a work of supererogation, since few who peruse this article will be found unacquainted with the widely circulated proofs of the real excellence of the Medicine, to which many will be ready to add the testimonials of their own experience. But if further proof were needed of the value of the remedy, it might be found in the fact that no Medicine in the market has been so shamelessly and repeatedly counterfeited. Ignorant, envious, avaricious, and unprincipled men,
have in different places, manufactured a spurious pill, bearing a superficial resemblance to the true article, but composed either of impotent or deleterious ingredients, which they have sought to foist
upon the public as the veritable
Indian Vegetable Pills.
These fraudulent swindlers could never pass off their vile wares upon the public but for the complicity and assistance of self-styled respectable Druggists, who, for the sake of a little "filthy lucre," lend themselves to the monstrous and unhallowed system of imposition. The counterfeiter of a popular medicine is more criminal than a coun-terfeiter of current money. The injuries done by the latter sink to nothing in comparison with those inflicted upon society by the former. We might paint him wringing the rite from the hard hand of infatigable penury which is extended for the boon of health, and receives instead the vile drug that pro-tracts and aggravates disease, or to view it in its best aspect, suffers it to rage unchecked. How melancholy is the reflection that thousands may have been hurried to the grave by having a counterfeit substituted for the true Medicine; who but for the venal fraud might now be living in good health, the delight and hope of the social circle.—
All classes are interested in putting down these vile Counterfeiters.

Let the Stores where they are sold
be marked and Shunned.

Let the virtuous indignation of the community administer to all concerned in these unfair practices a general and withering rebuke.

CAUTION:
The public will please observe that the genuine Medicine has the following wording on the sides of the boxes.

PILLS."

—Indian Purgative—
OF THE NORTH AMERICAN COLLEGE OF HEALTH.

"And also, around the border of a label will be found in small type. "Entered according to Act of Congress in the year 1840, by William Wright, in the Clerk's Office of the District Court of the Eastern District of Pennsylvania."

It will be further observed that the printed direction for using the Medicine, which accompanies each box, are also entered according to Act of Congress; and the same form will be found at the bottom of the first page.

The slightest attention to the above few particulars will serve to protect the purchaser from fraud, and save the lives of those who may otherwise be endangered by using a Counterfeit Medicine.

The public will also remember, that all those who sell the genuine Indian Vegetable Pills are provided with a certificate of Agency, signed by WILLIAM WRIGHT, Vice President
Of the American College of Health.

and that Pedlars are never in any case allowed to sell the genuine article. All traveling Agents will be provided with a certificate of Agency as above described; and those who cannot show one will be known as base impostors.

The regularly appointed Agents can receive their supplies of the above popular pills, as heretofore, from the only Office and General Depot for the New England States

dispensable, when they know its power and enjoy its comforts; and all who get it shall have the

COUGHS, COLDS, &c.
COUGHS, Colds, Spitting of Blood, Asthma, and all complaints of the chest, lungs and liver, will be cured by the Extract of Lungwort, when all else fails. This we assert without fear of the least contradiction. Besides, it does not require the false certificate of the panacea, balsams and candies, to induce invalids to use this great restorative. One trial will convince the sceptical, that its virtues are far above price. To be found only at G. W. LADD'S, corner of Smith's Block, West Market Place.

is felt mutually by the deaf person and his hearers.

DR. M'MUNN'S CELEBRATED
ELIXIR OF OPIUM.
THIS is a new Chemical preparation, which contains ALL the valuable qualities of OPI-UM, and consequently, produces all its sedative and anodyne effects. The Elixir being divested of all the noxious and deleterious principles of the Opium, does not destroy the appetite, nor produce sickness at the stomach, Vomiting, Headache, or Constipation of the Bowels; hence its high superiority to Laudanum, Paregoric, and every other form of opiate.
This Elixir of Opium is therefore especially adapted to those cases in which Laudanum Paragoric, Morphine, Black Drop, &c., cannot be taken without being followed by those ill effects which they are so liable to produce.

PATENT MILL WHEELS.
THE Subscriber having for a long time given his attention to the construction and operation of Water Wheels, has finally succeeded in the invention of two kinds of Wheels for which he has received Letters Patent from the Government of the United States.

These Wheels are simple in their construction, cheap and durable, are easily put in operation, and are not liable like most other wheels to get out of order, they are not obstructed by back water, when the head is not diminished thereby; and the same power and speed is obtained, with about one half the quantity of water usually applied to wheels
now in general use.

A great number of these Wheels are now in operation and give in all cases entire satisfaction; and for further information respecting them the following gentlemen are referred to, all of whom have some of said wheels in operation: Jacob Drummond, James B. Fiske, Amos Davis and Leonard Marble, Esqrs., Messrs. Fiske & Norcross, Foster
& Gilman, S. P. & H. Strickland, W. T. & H.
Peirce & Co., Bangor; Hon. J. S. Little, Portland;
Hon. John Olin, Hallowell; F. A. Butman, Esquire,
Dixmont; Robert Treat, Geo. A. Peirce, Esquires,
Frankfort; Daniel Dennett, Esq. Milo; Col. Henry
Orme, Milton; Messrs. Fiske & Bridge, Milford; Ira
Wadleigh, Esq. Oldtown; Capt. R. Fittz Dedham;
John Black and John M. Hale, Esqrs. Ellsworth;
Messrs. A. Campbell & Co. Cherryfield; Daniel Harwood, Esq. Machias; Levi L. Lowell, Calais.

The above wheels are manufactured and for sale at the Iron Foundries of Messrs. HINCKLEY & EGERY and FRANKLIN MUZZY & Co. in this city, who are furnished with a great variety of patterns, so that Wheels of any particular description, or adapted to any given head of water, can be furnished at short notice. They are also authorized to dispose of the Patent Right for the same.

THE PILES AND ALL SORES.
HAY'S LINIMENT is known now to thousands, as a most extraordinary remedy for these afflictions. It is impossible to tell in a newspaper, in such a manner, as to obtain full credence, the effects and benefits of this article, so general is the practice of advertisers of extolling articles of no merit. Such personal reference will be given, as to bring conviction to the minds of the most unbelieving. Will sufferers only ask among their friends, if they have not heard or known its effects; and if they do not hear it more warmly praised than any other salve, let them not get it.—
All fancy or exaggeration is positively excluded from the statements, and it is determined to say nothing of its merits, but what could be fully proved by a host of witnesses, in any court of justice. Will you look at the thing and the proofs where it may be had? at G. W. LADD'S, A.

TO THE OLD AND YOUNG.
HO! YE RED HEADS AND GREY!
PHENOMENON IN CHEMISTRY.
EAST INDIA HAIR DYE.
Colors the Hair, and will not the Skin matter of fact may be applied to the hair over night, the first night turning the lightest RED or GREY HAIR to a dark brown, and by repeating a second or third night to a bright jet black. Any person may, therefore, with the least possible trouble, keep his hair any dark shade or perfect black;
with a positive assurance that the powder, if applied to the skin, will not color it. By an occasional application, a person turning grey will never be known to have a grey hair. Directions complete with the article. There is no coloring in this statement, as one can easily test.

These facts are warranted by the gentleman who manufactures it, who is the celebrated Chemist, DR. COMSTOCK, author of Comstock's Chemistry, Philosophy, and other works, and School

public.

Dr. D. Jayne's FAMILY-MEDICINES.

JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT.
THIS invaluable medicine is daily effecting cures of the most astonishing and wonderful cures that have ever been known. All who have used it for Asthma, Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Whooping Cough, Croup, Hoarseness, Consumption, Chronic Pleurisy, Hoarseness,
and Soreness of the Throat, Difficulty of Breathing,
and every other disease of the LUNGS and BRONCHES,
and do attest to its usefulness. BRONCHITIS, a disease which is annually sweeping thousands upon thousands to a premature grave, under the mistaken name of CONSUMPTION, is always cured by it. The nature of the Lungs or Throat, Hoarseness, Difficulty of Breathing, Asthma, Hectic Fever, a Spitting of Phlegm or Matter, and sometimes Blood, is an inflammation of the fine skin which lines the inside of the whole of the wind tubes or air vessels, which run throughout the Lungs. The Expectorant immediately ly suppresses the Cough, Pain, Inflammation, Fever and Difficulty
